Studio Package (Television Studio Production) | Course BE02020

Studio Package is an eight week, 24 hour, all-encompassing course providing hands-on training for all equipment elements needed to help produce a television program using either studio A or B. Key crew positions covered include camera operations, lighting, set-design, audio operations, character generator/Ross Xpression, Chroma Key/Green Screen, technical directing/Ross Carbonite, and proper production planning tips. If you would like to know how to create a show in studios A or B – whether it is a talk show, sports, news or interview segments, then this is the class for you. By the end of this course you will be certified in the use of all the studio and control room equipment and authorized to volunteer in equipment positions for studio A/B productions. Note: volunteering and continued practice with the equipment is key to improve ones skills and experience. 8 sessions @ 3 hrs each.

Field Package (Electronic Field Production) | Course BE02021

Learn the key concepts to conduct an electronic field production. From pre-production planning to on-site preparation, all while learning the use of our latest field camera equipment and all FPA available field gear to enhance such productions. The class uses a mix of lectures with hands-on demonstrations to teach items such as proper camerawork, lighting and audio recording techniques when using our JVC and GoPro cameras and additional accessories such as camera mounts and dolly system. This is the core recommended course for members interested in using FPA field equipment to produce a show outside a formal television studio environment, such as field interviews, concerts, events and/or documentary style projects. Upon completion students are certified in the use of FPA's field camera equipment and all accessories for approved FPA productions. 8 sessions @ 3 hrs each.

Adobe Audition Fundamentals | Course BE02023

In this workshop, you will learn the basics of digital recording, audio editing, and processing -as well as mixing voice with sound effects and music- using the industry standard Adobe Audition CC program. The class is designed to teach the necessary skills to edit radio shows or creating audio promos. Furthermore, you'll gain an understanding on how to prepare audio files for podcasting or web purposes. Upon completion of this course, use of this equipment is authorized for volunteer purposes or for those working on their own approved FPA program. We highly recommend beginner students take our Radio Production course first to learn all the capabilities available in our Radio Fairfax and WRLD Radio studios prior to registering in this class. (Class fee includes course textbook)

Apprenticeship/Trade Industry

Whether you have entrepreneurial aspirations or want to be up to date on skilled trade regulations and technologies, you can be workforce ready with FCPS ACE's Apprenticeship program. Designed to meet employers' standards, the courses available through the Apprenticeship program are approved by the Virginia Department of Labor and Industry (DOLI). Successful completion of each four-level program culminates in a portable, nationally recognized NCCER credential and eligibility to sit for the journeyman licensure exam. A chance to fast track a career in the trades, apprentices work as full-time paid employees of a registered training sponsorship company, while gaining hands-on workplace training and related instruction. Don't see the Apprenticeship course you were hoping to register for? Check our website for more options as classes are added frequently. Courses are offered in-person, online and inhybrid format. FCPS ACE aims to provide an affordable education your way.

For those who may need financial assistance, email educationalcounseling@fcps.edu to learn about your options.

Rubble and Guilt: Europe After Zero Hour | Course HI05030

The term "Zero Hour" refers to Germany's capitulation at midnight on May 8, 1945, ending World War II in Europe. Zero Hour impacted everyone, male and female, old and young. Its arrival ushered in a period of self-reflection in addition to reconstruction, both of the physical infrastructure of the region, and of society. This course will explore some of the films that are set in this critical time period.

Germany Year Zero, directed by Roberto Rossolini, captures the experiences of a 12-year-old child who must help his family survive in the devastation of post-WWII Berlin. In The Third Man, a riveting masterpiece of light and shadow filmmaking, a pulp novelist travels to shadowy postwar Vienna, only to find himself investigating the mysterious death of an old friend. Directed by Rainer Werner Fassbinder, The Marriage of Maria Braun is the tale of a beauty, widowed by war, who successfully uses her beauty and ambition to find prosperity in the chaos and economic recovery of post-War Germany. In The Reader, a brief but intense affair with an older woman in the chaos of post-Nazi Germany provides the premise for a tortuous ethical conundrum for its protagonist when, years later, he re-encounters his former lover as she defends herself in a war-crime trial. Phoenix is an evocative and haunting drama in which a disfigured Holocaust survivor sets out to determine whether the man she loved betrayed her trust. A Woman in Berlin is based on a true story of a woman who, to escape the most horrifying aspects of the Russian invasion and occupation of Berlin, enters into a complex relationship with a Russian officer. And finally, Land of Mine, set in post-WW2 Denmark, chronicles the experiences of a group of young German POWs that are forced to clear a beach of thousands of land mines against overwhelming odds, and the watchful eye of a Danish sergeant. There will be showings of the shorter films as double features. 5 sessions @ 3hrs. each.
